

Expect Congress to Pass Bonus Measure

By Stephen Bolles

Washington, D. C.—Among those not present to hear President Coolidge read his message was Hiram Johnson, the only senator candidate for the presidency against Calvin Coolidge. It is perfectly well-known that at the Chicago convention in 1920 when defeated for the presidency and hours before the actual vote had been taken that made Harding the candidate, Hiram Johnson, could have been nominated for the second place on the ticket and had he accepted, he and not President Coolidge, would have been delivering that message. Johnson was backed in 1920 by a man named Strassberger, of Norristown, Pa., a rich and whimsical young man. Later on Albert Lasker, of Chicago and William W. Bradley, came into the Johnson camp and tried to clear away the debris and nominate him. It failed and while Lasker was a member of the Harding family of 1920, he is now again in the Johnson entourage. With Frank Hitchcock as campaign manager he has more of a machine than ever and Hitchcock has plenty of money behind him.

Mr. Strassberger has gone over to the Coolidge camp and is helping the president all he can. It will be little but every little helps. Johnson is not making a great deal of headway in Washington, the political capital of America. He has failed to win the support of the progressives and the more radical members of that faction, including the Labor Union members, are seeking favor from La Follette, the peerless leader. In spite of the campaign Johnson may put up, it is believed that La Follette will have a many delegates in the national convention at Cleveland as Johnson. Neither calling himself radical nor reactionary, neither progressive nor conservative, the position of Johnson presents an enigma. The former state chairman of the republican party in California says Johnson will lose his own state but that is hard to believe. He will not have the support of the railroad labor organizations and for that matter neither will La Follette. The trend of the present political group is in the direction of McAdoo, and constitutes, in fact, the largest part of the support of the non-in-law of Woodrow Wilson. Mr. McAdoo is the leader against the field in the democratic party.

A thousand things may happen between now and next June but it is not saying too much to announce that if the selection of a republican candidate were to take place in the next week, the Coolidge following would be the overwhelming choice of a convention of delegates selected at this time.

Nor will the president be opposed by the senators who do not agree with him as to details of the Mellon plan and tax reduction. Lodge, who is unequivocally for Coolidge, is in favor of a bonus for service men. Others, too, who are Coolidge followers, old tried veterans of congress (Continued on Page 2)

STATE SUES ST. PAUL R. R. FOR $10,000

Madison—Proceedings against the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad for the recovery of the state child labor laws were requested of the attorney general's department today by the state industrial commission.

The charges submitted to the legal department involve several provisions of the state law. It is alleged that the company has employed children under 18 at track repairing, has employed children under 17 years of age without a child labor permit.

Damages of $10,000 are requested by the state commission.

LOWDEN NOT CANDIDATE IN BUREAU POLL

The Parable of the Persevering Car Owner

Mr. X. had a very fine Ford sedan, a very fine car, but for some personal reason he wished to dispose of the Ford. Either because his business demanded a larger one, or because he no longer needed a car. He placed a very small want ad in the paper. He said very little and was in such small space that prospective buyers never saw it and he didn't sell the car.

BUT Mary Brown knew that car would sell. So she called Mrs. X. and explained the value of space, the increased circulation, the opportunity of the time. Mrs. X. is a very sensible business woman. She immediately grasped the logic of Mary's suggestion and ordered the ad written up in space and inserted for two more times.

FORD SEDAN

1920 model. Unusually good buy directly from owner. In excellent mechanical condition. $225. Will accept trade proposition. Phone 0000.

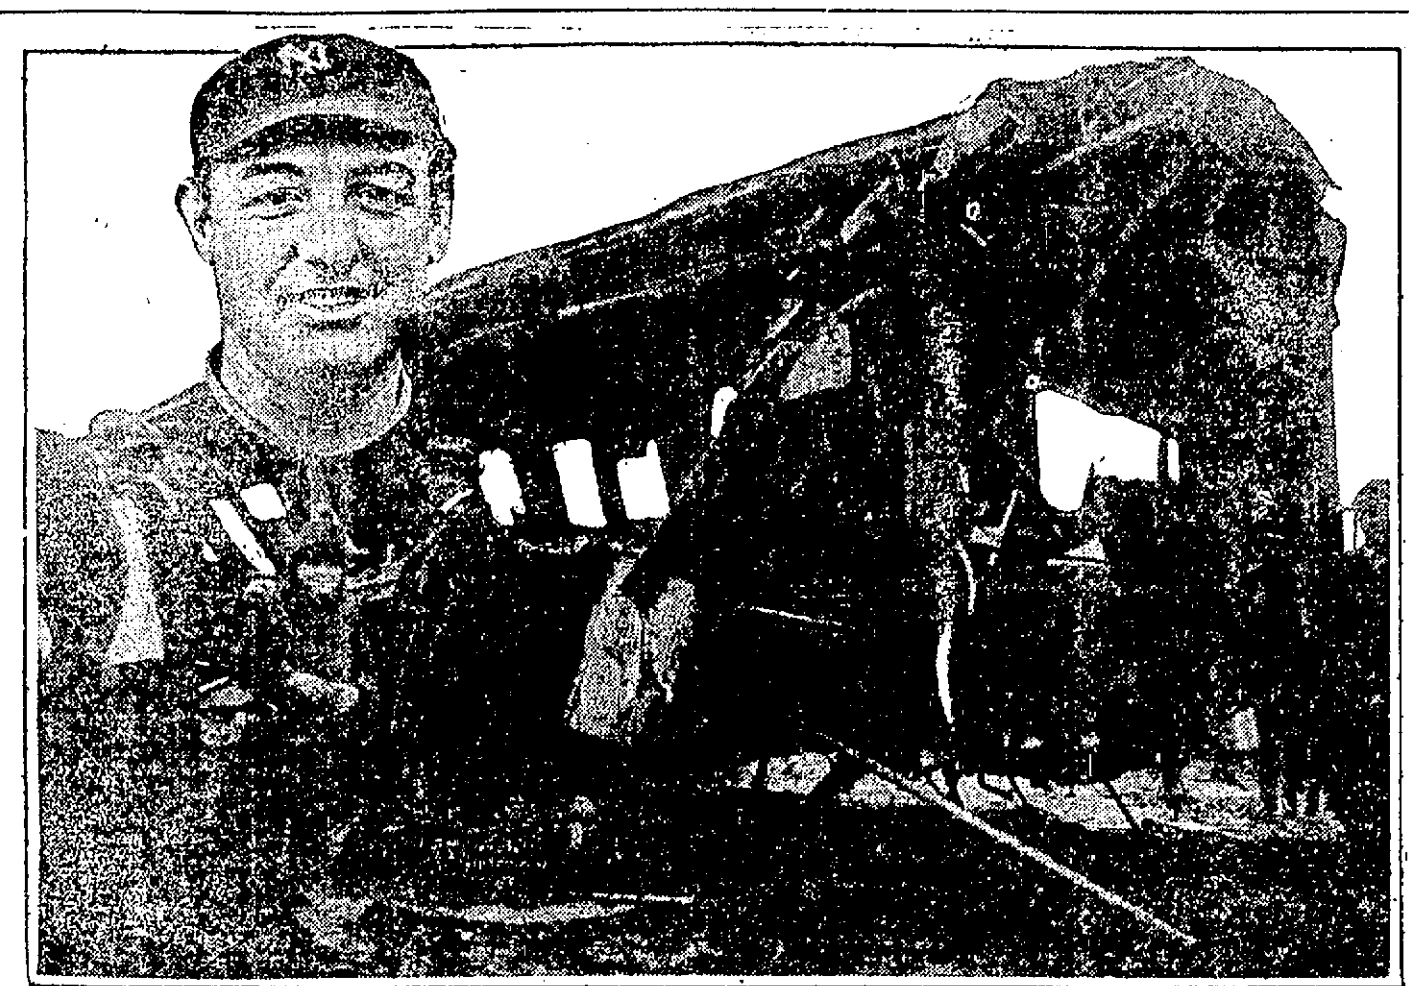

SUCCESS? Well I should say. On the first night there were six calls and the car was sold. And the moral is "if you don't sell your article the first time there's a reason."

PHONE 2500

And ask Mary Brown to help solve the advertising difficulty. Yours will be the same success. Because advertising knows no favorites.

HUERTA REVOLT GAINING HEADWAY

THE "DEATH CAR" IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY CRASH

A remarkable closeup view of the observation car of the first section of the Twentieth Century—the car in which most of the victims were killed. Note how one side of the coach was literally stripped off in the crash. Inset is of William B. ("Wild Bill") Donovan, famous baseball pitcher and manager, passenger in the coach and one of the victims.

"Extra Girl" Sues Scion of Wealth

Los Angeles.—William Granville Sully, son of a wealthy cotton broker and uncle of the juvenile movie actor, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., was named defendant in a $200,000 damage suit filed in the superior court here yesterday by Yvonne Darcy, 19 year old "extra" girl whose complaints alleged Sully attacked her after becoming acquainted with her at the studio where young Fairbanks was making his first appearance before the camera.

Miss Darcy said she did not take legal action after the alleged attack in Sully's Hollywood home last month, but appealed to him and to his father, Daniel J. Sully for redress.

When her appeals were ignored, she explained, she filed suit.

Senator Cummings, republican, Iowa, present chairman of the committee and president pro tem of the senate, received 41 votes for the chairmanship on the first ballot to 32 for Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina, and seven for La Follette. This left Cummings three short of the majority. The second ballot was the same.

Cummings' vote dropped to 33 on the third ballot. Smith holding his 32 and La Follette his seven. The senate then went into executive session and adjourned until tomorrow.

Supporting La Follette were the seven senators who brought about deadlock yesterday after Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, a member of the interstate commerce committee, had forced a separate vote on the chairmanship. They were: Brookhart, Ladd, Frazier, Norris and Howell, republicans, and Shilbestad and Johnson, farmer-labor.

The senators want repeal or revision of the transportation act and some of them are opposed to one senator holding two such important positions as those held by Senator Cummings.

FILE REQUEST FOR P. O. EXAMS HERE

No Applications or Recommendations Yet Received in Washington.

By BASCOM M. TIMMONS
Washington, D. C.—Janesville was given consideration by the post office department Monday when a request was filed by the postmaster general by a Janesville applicant for an examination for applicants for the post office there. While the term of postmaster J. J. Cunningham does not expire until March 29, next, it is the custom to hold the examinations far enough in advance to have the appointment ready when the term expires. No application for the office and no recommendations for any person have been made or are on file at the post office department. The matter was called to the attention of the postmaster general by a Janesville visitor at the department last week. It is known that Mr. Cunningham has been an applicant for the place and the name of Marshall Richardson has been mentioned in connection with the appointment. The office pays $2,700 a year.

PINKERTON DIES IN WEST

Los Angeles.—William Pinkerton, one of the owners of the Pinkerton National Detective agency, died here Tuesday morning at the Hotel Biltmore.

This photo, probably the most striking one obtained of the wreck of the Twentieth Century train near Westfield, N. Y., shows how the onrushing third section of the train demolished the observation car on the rear of the first section—the train ahead. Nine persons lost their lives and scores were injured in the crash. The responsibility for the accident is now being investigated by the New York Central officials and county coroner at the location of the wreck. The engineer of the second section said that he saw the warning block too late to stop his train before the crash came. William B. "Wild Bill" Donovan, famous baseball pitcher and later manager of the New York American league club for four years, was one of the victims in the observation car. President John A. Heydler of the National League and William F. Baker, president of the Philadelphia National league club, were in another car in the ill-fated section. Donovan had invited them to the observation car, but they pleaded the lateness of the hour and did not join him. Uninjured passengers of both sections aided in the rescue work.

Board Fixes Rental Fees for All City Schools; to Open Cafeteria Bids Soon

Adoption of a set of rules regulating the use of public school buildings and grounds was one of the important pieces of work accomplished at the December meeting of the board of education. Monday night among the other progressive steps taken were the authorization of the buildings and grounds committee to secure bids for the installation of cold water in the Jackson school building and the substitution of an electric motor driven pump in the Adams school for the present pump operating by steam.

GOVERNOR GRANTS ABSOLUTE PARDON

Five Conditional, Five Commutations; Eight Pleas Flatly Denied.

Madison—Governor Blaine today acted upon 23 applications for pardon from state institutions. He granted one absolute pardon, five conditional pardons, five commutations of sentences, ordered one parole and restored probationary status to one. Eight applications were denied and no action taken on two others.

Among the pardons denied was that of Judson Montgomery Milwaukee county. Montgomery was convicted of second degree murder and sentenced to 14 years. He was found guilty of driving an automobile at high speed into a crowd in Milwaukee, killing one woman and two children and injuring several others. The governor also acted on the embittered case from Kenosha which attracted considerable attention last year. Peter Fisher, Jr., convicted of embezzlement and sentenced to three years, was granted commutation, his term expiring Feb. 16, 1924. Joseph Meyers, former sheriff of Kenosha county who was convicted of bribery and sentenced to five years, was granted commutation, his sentence to expire Feb. 15, next year.

Pardon for Alex Ritter, under-sheriff of Kenosha county, convicted of bribery and sentenced to two and one-half years was denied. No action was taken on the application of Owen O'Hare, former chief of police of Kenosha, who was charged with malfeasance, embezzlement and obtaining money under false pretenses. He was sentenced to two and one-half years. In O'Hare's case, the governor stated that the defendant will be in line for a parole in the near future.

Mike Kwasniewski, Lafayette county, convicted of assault to kill his wife; the two children, Catherine, Jennie, James, Donald and Mary; one brother, Alex Buchanan, town of Harmony.

Announcement of the funeral will be given later.

ELEANORE LA VEER CONFRONTS MATE AT FORT MADISON

CONVICT IDENTIFIED AS HUSBAND BY JANESVILLE WOMAN.

TALK PRIVATELY

LaVeer's Second Wife at Bos-cobel Plans to Sue for Divorce.

James LaVeer, serving a seven year sentence in the state penitentiary at Fort Madison, Ia., is the husband of Eleanore LaVeer, Janesville woman, who has been searching for him since he disappeared in 1920 from Eau Claire, about the same time as Edward J. Sallstad. She was established Tuesday, according to an Associated Press dispatch, when Mrs. LaVeer arrived at the penitentiary from Janesville, and positively identified the man. Mrs. LaVeer was with her husband all morning in the warden's office. Both had refused to talk in the presence of witnesses, so they were permitted to confer privately.

Second Wife to Act
As Mrs. LaVeer No. 1 was closeted with the man now serving a seven year sentence for defrauding G. O. Smith, Oshkosh, Ia., of $20,000 through sale of forged stock, LaVeer's second wife, known in Bos-cobel, Wis., as Mrs. James Ward, was conferring with attorneys to start annulment proceedings.

Up to now true to her promise to wait for him until he was released from prison, Mrs. Ward, alias LaVeer, told the Gazette Tuesday over long distance that she will have nothing further to do with her husband who, through his marriage to her, became a bigamist.

Thruout With Him
Asked by the Gazette if she had known all the time the her husband was a bigamist, Mrs. Ward said:

"I didn't know until I read it in Saturday's paper. If I had known I would not have married him. I am through with him. I have put the matter into the hands of an attorney and shall start proceedings for annulment of our marriage."

Mrs. Ward admitted she had helped Eleanore LaVeer at first, but when he was convicted, but declined to say anything of the financial aid she gave him. Before her marriage to LaVeer in Denver, Aug. 25, 1922, she was Miss Cora E. Bock and the daughter of the late A. E. Bock who ran a pap factory in Escobedo, Mexico.

Wants to Forget
The Bos-cobel woman told the Gazette she "wanted to forget it all." She said she thought he was "innocent" of the charges on which he was convicted. She met LaVeer in Yellowstone park and married him after a hurried courtship. LaVeer is the father of her child, now a year old.

What Eleanore LaVeer will do concerning her marital status cannot be learned. Her belief that James LaVeer was true to her alone apparently was firm, as she would not hear stories of his second marriage without seeing him. She came to her work at the Parker Pen company Monday morning but collapsed after being there a short time and was sent home to leave her job. An executive of the company said he did not know when she would return, or whether she would.

Robbers at Cambridge Are Foiled

THE ALARM CLOCK

Paste it in your thinking—the holiday season have narrowed down to 11 in number. Many a package and bundle are this week being sent to the call to arms. It takes a man a long time to get ready and go shopping now, but it saves you time and indisposition in the long run.

This is parcel-post week. Uncle Samuel appeals for assistance. A little effort done now, but which you plan on doing later, will solve the problem and make you feel sort of patriotic, too.

Did you ever focus your eyes on express and mail trucks and wonder whether your gift, hidden somewhere in the pile, is being well or contrived?

Around Christmas mail clerks and express men handle packages like so much firewood. It's your fault—you should have shipped earlier.

Partridge is the thief of shopping joys these days.

SEEK TRAXLER'S REPORT BEFORE ENDING INQUEST

JURORS IN THEATER INVESTIGATION ASK MORE DATA.

SET FOR JAN. 27

Inquest Adjourned Six Weeks to Give Time for Final Reports.

Despite the insistence of Coroner Lynn Whaley no material progress has been realized in the investigation by the coroner's jury investigating the cause of the collapse of the Serrano theater. Following the re-opening of the hearing in the municipal court here Monday afternoon, it was apparent that so many different theories, opinions and views have been advanced that the six-man jury is not able at the present time to render a specific verdict.

The hearing has been continued until Jan. 27 when a report is expected from City Manager Henry Traxler.

At the previous hearing it was the suggestion of Attorney William H. Dougherty that a competent engineer be obtained to figure the engineering and technical problems in an effort to determine the cause of the collapse of the partly complete theater building. The coroner agreed to have the tests made on the steel from the trusses and a detailed report was made during the hearing. Monday, experts declared that the steel complied with the maximum standards of the building trade and that there was no failure from the steel being "insufficient in strength."

At the time of the last hearing of the city of Janesville objected to having an outside engineer compute the figures because of the cost. It was (Continued on page 14)

OBREGON FORCES BEATEN IN FIRST TILT WITH REBELS

LOYALISTS RETREAT AS INSURGENTS MOVE ON CAPITAL.

GARRISON REBELS

Deny Reports of Yaqui Indian Uprising Against Government.

BULLETIN
Chihuahua, City, Mexico.—Governor Ignacio Enriquez of the state of Chihuahua has been beaten near Torreon by De la Huerta forces and is being held prisoner, according to word received by legislators here today. Governor Enriquez was returning to the state capital from Mexico City where he went in an effort to prevent a rupture of Plutarco Calles and Adolpho de la Huerta.

Veracruz.—The forces of Adolfo de la Huerta and General Sanchez, which are advancing toward Mexico City, met a detachment of federal troops yesterday near Boca del Monte on the Puebla-Vera Cruz border.

The Obregon soldiers retreated, reports of the engagement say, after a brief skirmish with the rebel detachment which was commanded by Colonel Celso Hernandez. The insurgent leader then started for Tehuacan, Puebla, to cover the advance of troops which are to go forward today.

Obregon soldiers are reported at Chihuahua, state of Puebla, and at other points along the Mexican railway. They are under the command of General Topete, who yesterday morning advanced with a military train to Esperanza. He later withdrew.

If the Obregon forces and the Sanchez troops clash in or near their present positions the engagements will be fought in nearly the same locality where the late President Carranza was defeated in his flight from Mexico City to Vera Cruz.

Travelers arriving here from the national capital report that the being circulated to the effect that the loyal general, Almazan, had arrested Governor Manjarrez of Puebla state, because he had declared himself against the president.

Garrison Is Split.
The garrison at Tepic died Sunday and 200 soldiers rebelled, according to reports reaching Mexico City, which said General Anacleto Ortega, chief of military operations in Nayarit, who commanded the garrison, was seriously wounded.

Reports that the Yaqui Indians at Bacoate were about to go on the war path or that they had taken to the mountains in preparation for such action, were regarded unfounded in the Negro dispatches.

GUNBOAT TO AID IN ATTACK ON TAMICO

Vera Cruz, Mexico.—The gun boat Zarcero, prepared to sail for Tampico to assist in the attack on that city, which will be undertaken by the troops of Governor Lopez Ortega, says a report from the capital from troops commanded by General Anacleto Martinez. The operations against Tampico will be directed by General Alfonso de la Huerta.

Advices received here say Colima, in the state of Guanajuato, north of Mexico City, has fallen into the hands of rebels commanded by General Gabay.

A radio message from the headquarters of General Enrique Estrada, commander of the Western forces, says he is aware of the capital from this direction is continuing.

Meanwhile troops are leaving Vera Cruz for the point of concentration from which the rebel revolt is expected to be started. This advance will be a long line of the Mexican railway.

It is reported a band of 100 federal soldiers, sent to oppose the rebels, joined the insurgents near San Andres, Puebla.

Troops which yesterday took possession of the city of Tepic, and dispersed the forces of General Belmar, who abandoned the town with 100 men.

SCHEDULE SHOWS NEW HERD SIRE

TOBACCO PRICES COME INTO COUNTY

Increased Return to Growers Expected on 1923 Crop—New Grading System.

Growers of "A" grade tobacco crops in the northern Wisconsin section will receive an average price of $2.75 cents a pound for the 1923 crop, according to an analysis of prices made known to buyers in Wisconsin by the Northern Wisconsin Cooperative Tobacco pool. These are several cents higher on the average than last year's prices.

While several million pounds of the 1923 crop were sold as a result of an eastern trip by Attorney Emerson E. and Warehouse Manager John Holman, the pool still has a considerable amount of tobacco to dispose of.

The schedule of prices announced is based on a new selling system which provides three divisions and three grades for the crop. Under this system a grower of the best "A" grade northern will receive 40 cents a pound for all sorts of leaf 18 inches and up in length, 24 cents for the 18 to 24 inch leaf and 20 cents for the 18 to 24 inch leaf under 18 inches and nine cents for "seconds." This will give him an aggregate, estimated at 32.75 cents for the run of his crop, which is 15 per cent higher than the percentage of leaf in his crop in the three different grades.

Figures in the final column of the table below, giving an approximation of the net average prices which will be realized by the grower, are based on a schedule of percentages assuming the crop to run 75 per cent of binder 18 inches and over, 15 per cent of "seconds" and 10 per cent of "seconds." These, however, will vary according to the crops, some of which may contain only 60 per cent of leaf over 18 inches and others more than 75 cents. The table follows:

	Northern	Approximate net price
18 in. Below 18 Sec. and up inches sold to farmer

"B".....	25	20.00
"C".....	20	15.00

"BETTIES" PROVE POPULAR AMONG FARM HOUSEWIVES

Madison — Although the census was taken only a few days ago, more "Betties" in Wisconsin today than there were a year ago. These handy paper dress forms have been made largely by rural women's clubs in the state with the help of home economics specialists from the University of Wisconsin.

"Many women would make their own clothes if they had some way to fit them," explains Miss Sadie McNulty, clothing specialist. "This is especially true of the woman on the farm for her neighbor is not always near who can help her in fitting. The paper dress form solves this problem for it is an exact model of the owner's figure and she may make up the time she needs to hunt and adjust her clothes to it. Then, too, it is easy to make and doesn't cost over a dollar."

Women's clubs, both rural and city, in all sections of the state have been making the dress form this year. Even women who do not sew find the dress form a time-saver because several have reported to Miss McNulty that they send their "Betty" and material to their dressmaker and thus save all the bother of fittings.

BANK SEEKS SHARE IN LOCAL LEGACY

Claim of South Dakota Against Fonda Estate Is Disputed.

An interesting contest in the Giles Fonda estate involving the right of the state of S. Dakota to claim the distributive share of one son in payment of indebtedness to a liquidated bank of South Dakota, will be heard before Judge Charles L. Fifield at the January term of county court which opens Jan. 2.

Giles Fonda, died in Turtle town, S. Dak. March 12, 1921 and Charles W. Fifield, Sheriff, was appointed his executor. The estate is valued at $17,000 and will be distributed among six children, the widow having since died.

Son's Share $2,700
The share of the estate going to John Fonda, Manchester, S. D., is claimed by John Fifield, superintendent of banks of South Dakota, in the liquidation of the State Bank of Manchester. John Fonda's distributive share in his father's estate is $2,700 and the state of South Dakota claims this in application on indebtedness with the liquidated bank.

Is Unique Case
Through his attorney, Charles A. Enslow, Janesville, John Fonda has filed a demurrer to the claim of the banking commissioner of South Dakota, claiming that the court has no jurisdiction.

The matter is solely a point of law. It is the second time it has been brought up in Judge Fifield's court, the last time in the case of a private individual resulted in settlement and it was not necessary for a ruling of the court. Never before has a case involving the claim of a state or liquidated state bank been involved.

John Fonda has been ordered to appear at the hearing. The action on the bank of Manchester which is the foundation for the claim are as follows: Feb. 5, 1921, $2,000; and $227.50; June 15, 1921, $455.70.

PRESIDENTIAL ASPIRANTS IN THE OPEN FIELD

and the senate, but are in favor of a bonus, are Lenroot, Brandegee, Willis, Foss, Bursum, Spencer, Cummins, Colt, Shortridge, Edna and Davis Ellkins. Other senators who are not out in the open for the president as yet and some who are opposed to him but who are for the bonus law, are Watson of Indiana, president; Curtis, Gooding, McNary, Stanford, McCormick, and McCann. The passage of a bonus law appears certain. The real question is whether it can be passed over a veto of the president. There may be enough democratic votes and all the so-called progressive votes, to do this. In the meantime the tax matters will be held in abeyance or the line-up changed so as to give consideration to this situation. In the house the majority for a bonus is large and thought to be sufficient to pass a bonus measure over the president's head. Senator Edge, of New Jersey, is placed in the bonus list as he has given signs of changing and has campaigned on for re-election next fall. He voted against a bonus last year. The republicans who are counted on to vote against a bonus are Borah, East, Cameron, Dale, Grant, Kernell, Greene, Keary, McKinley, Moses, Pepper, Phipps, Reed of Pennsylvania, Smoot, Sterling, Wadsworth, Warren and Wellor.

I asked every member of congress I met for two days how he would vote on a bonus and each answer was, "for it." There were 54 in all.

Congressman Nelson is angry because the committee assignments have been made and his group of insurgents has not been better recognized. In the language of one of the members of the 17, they ordered a ton of coal and were sent an empty wagon. The deal by which the settlement of the Insurgency was made was entirely on the basis of changes in rules only, and no more. Whatever else was earlier proposed had given away entirely to the one proposal to correct the rule. The fight of the 17 had fallen to pieces because of the impending disaster if the democrats should make the election possible. Had this come about, and it was quite likely at any moment after Tuesday, the 17 would have been left on the sidelines completely out of luck. There is no reason for the Nelson kick in the congressional record is the speech of Henry Allen Cooper who was applauded when he said the fight was only against the rules. Committee assignments also are never satisfactory to those who do not get them.

Some one asks how the custom of presidents reading messages originated. George Washington began it. It was a sort of continuation of the custom of the address from the throne by the English kings to the parliament. Adams continued it but the different Jefferson, not caring for the ordeal, sent his message to be read by clerks. No one ever paid any attention to the reading but found the text later in the Congressional Record. Woodrow Wilson revived the George Washington custom and it has been continued since at each session of congress.

Once upon a time Gen. "Jke" Sherman ran a paper in Toledo and Cleveland. For 15 years he has been in congress, a democrat from a republican district. He is easily picked out with his radio receiver at his ear since he is very deaf. But one does not notice that because he is a most companionable man even though he is the patriarch of house at 83.

Old war buildings built on the lath and plaster plan, with great halls and long corridors, are being torn down as rapidly as it is possible for departments to be reduced as to employees or consolidated with others. The prohibition commissioner and his office in the main building with the internal revenue collector, is a half mile from anywhere and one may walk several miles to get to the office. The building has a guide, and in spite of the size of the building where income taxes are finally passed upon and all the internal taxes in the nation for every office looks packed and overcrowded. The only thing that could get through here without fatigue would be a tax exempt security.

TWO PLANS FOR FARM AID
By FREDERICK J. HASKIN.
Washington.—Two important new developments in the field of cooperative production and marketing for farmers are under way, partially as the result of the stimulus given the movement by President Coolidge in his annual message. The president declared that the farmer can not be aided so much by congress in providing such relief measures as can be by efforts toward better organization for the production and distribution of the yield of the soil.
The National Grange is working on the most comprehensive program of cooperative development which has yet been attempted in this country. A committee of the grange is perfecting the plan and expects to offer it to congress at this session. The plan provides for a nation-wide system of cooperatives with governmental support.
The country would be divided into 12 regions, quite probably coinciding with the 12 regions of the Federal Farm Loan System. At a central office in each of these 12 districts there would be established a regional cooperative board. Then, at Washington, there would be created a national cooperative board with general jurisdiction over the whole system.
Each of the 12 cooperatives would be organized as a business corporation. It is proposed to have the government appropriate $1,000,000 for the capital of each of these bodies, or a total of $12,000,000 for the whole country. The farmers and livestock raisers, cotton planters, sheep and husbandmen then would be invited to join the cooperative in their district. Each would pay a relatively small sum for membership, probably $10.
There are six and a half million farms in the United States. It would not be out of the question to expect 100,000 farmers in each district to join the cooperatives. This would be a total for the country of only 1,200,000 or about 20 per cent of all the farmers. For 100,000 farmers in each district to join would mean another million dollars capital for each cooperative society. It is expected that there would be further support with consequent increases in the capital subscribed.
No doubt these societies also would be authorized to issue bonds or debentures against their property which would still further augment their working capital.

It would be the duty of each regional cooperative board to instruct the farmers of its district as to the best crops to raise. In years when there appeared to be an unusually large carry-over of wheat from the previous season, the board would advise curtailment of wheat acreage. The same course would be followed with corn, hogs, sheep, cattle, and all other farm products. In this manner a more stable price level would be maintained with a consequent absence of the sort of fluctuation in the value of farm products which is the bane of the rural industry.
The national board, sitting at Washington, would advise the various districts on all such matters of planting, crop diversification, improved agricultural methods and marketing.
The principal function of the cooperatives, however, would be to find markets and handle the distribution of the products after they had been raised. Out of the capital fund at its disposal, each cooperative would handle shipments to the best markets it could find. It would seek to develop new markets and employ the best methods in packing, storing and shipping. As the representative of a large body of farmers, such an organization would be in a strong position to obtain favorable freight rates and traffic arrangements with the railroads.
A natural development to come later would be the erection of great warehouses by these regional cooperatives. One of the difficulties the farmer now faces is that incident to getting his money out of his crop. He works all summer without any income. By fall he is anxious to sell his harvest and get his money. This results in large quantities of farm produce being dumped on the market at the same time. Such a glut always depresses prices.
With storerooms erected, the cooperatives would receive the wheat and other non-perishable crops of the farmer-member and give him a warehouse certificate on which he could borrow money which would enable him to withhold his crop, or a part of it, thus maintaining the price. As the cooperatives grew stronger they could, themselves, advance money to farmers against the crops held in storage.

One important advantage which advocates of the plan see is that the national and regional boards would be advantageously situated to arrange for the profitable export of farm products. The bodies would have official standing and have the assistance of other governmental agencies in finding the best markets and in making advantageous deals with foreign governments and other customers.
The national board and the regional boards would be appointed by the president from among the best men available for such work. Representatives of the various branches of agriculture would be named and also at least one man on each board who is expert in finance.
The second general movement in the cooperative field is educational. Some of the existing farm bodies such as the National Grange, the National Board of Farm Organizations, and the American Farm Bureau Federation are seeking to arrange for a central school for the instruction of cooperatives. The various state agricultural colleges now afford valuable courses in different branches of farming and farm management, but the feeling exists that there must be further specialization in the cooperative production and marketing department. It has been suggested that there be established some central school in which agricultural students may come to take additional work in the nature of post-graduate studies. Presumably the state governments and possibly the federal government will be asked to contribute in some manner to the establishment of such an institution.

While cooperative producing and marketing has been going forward for generations in some European countries, notably Russia, and the Scandinavian countries, it is comparatively new in the United States and there is a shortage of experts in the science. The agricultural colleges lack instructors and the cooperative societies which have been organized lack competent managers. Such a central school as has been proposed would be first utilized to train a numerous corps of instructors who could later go into the agricultural colleges and disseminate their learning among the students. The farm leaders who are advocating this plan say that plenty of good jobs are awaiting young men who will train themselves in cooperative marketing. There is demand for hundreds of teachers and for hundreds of active managers of cooperative enterprises.

Never once did Calvin Coolidge use the term, "May I not" which was a sad oversight of an opportunity to compliment a previously great academician.

WINTER NIGHTS.
When old winter sets in,
Then the happy days begin.
"Happy times, with blizzards howling
And the skies a sombre gray?"
"Oh," I think I hear you pleading,
"It is summer time we're needing,
With the warmth of all the flowers,
To be happy through the day."
Let the blustering blizzards blow,
And the path be deep with snow.
We'll sing of songs to please the heart,
And make merry round the fire.
We'll grow closer to each other,
Father, mother, sister, brother,
And we'll revel in the pleasures
Of which mortals never tire.
With a fire upon the hearth
We can manufacture mirth.
We can drown the north wind's meaning
With a flood of simple song.
And, grateful of the weather,
We can romp and play together.
And the bonds of love shall tighten
Though the winter may be long.

When old winter sets in,
Then the happy days begin.
Nights that know no hint of danger
But are sweet with mirth and play;
Nights together—father, mother,
Little sister, happy brother,
Finding all the joy that's useful
In the best and truest way.

ANOTHER REVOLUTION SHIPPED.
Any kind reader, Italian or otherwise, who is able to do so, is beseeched to tell us—Why is it that when we go for a shine, the bootblack must have one of his cohorts and bring forth a lowing, conversing, shouting, murderous glances at us the while?
"Poliziano masquito brattiano!" "Oswego hum solo mautura!" "Salami tampus mautio!" "Pussy antennae mo' tapper!" "Alfonso faria buotto!" "Toruso fandangio Amella!" "Auto sub-puona cantano!"
This would probably continue indefinitely, only the boss always comes in and settles everything with, "Maloney Cascura bunjo!" which are the only three words in Italian language for which I have the slightest affection—Lester Lamb.

WHO'S WHO TODAY
REPRESENTATIVE LEONIDAS CARSTARPHEN DYER.
A unique plan for obtaining funds for the enforcement of prohibition has been suggested to Congress by Representative Leonidas C. Dyer of Missouri. He advocates the sale of near-beer of 2.75 per cent and the collection of a tax on the sale of said beer, the receipts to be used to help defray the expenses of dry enforcement. He believes that proper licensing and taxing of the beer sellers would eliminate old time saloons and that four-fifths of the persons would then support the present dry laws.
Dyer is a native of Missouri. His parents journeyed to that state from Virginia and Kentucky with their parents. Dyer was born on a farm in Warren county. He was educated in the public schools, Central Wesleyan college of Warren, Mo., and Washington University at St. Louis.
His first important political office was that of assistant clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives. He received a certificate of election to the following session, but was unseated through contest instituted by the democratic candidate. He was re-elected two years later and has served continuously since.

Personal Health Service
By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author
Those who may be attracted by the title of today's scolding are gently but firmly reminded that I maintain that no illness ever comes to an adult or child as a result of getting the feet wet; so it is extremely improbable that I shall attach any weight to the companion notion that dampness in the air injures anybody's health.
When I say no illness comes from wet feet I mean no illness which could be possibly dubbed a "cold" even by the most uninformed person. I freely concede frostbite. That is the only malady which can be scientifically or even reasonably attributed to exposure. Discomfort, misery and suffering are certainly caused by exposure, but no disease.
No one has ever been able to adduce any scientific evidence that exposure, in the common sense of the word, has any bearing upon one's susceptibility to any particular disease or class of diseases. Many have attempted to obtain such evidence; one of the most recent being a study of it, but when analyzed the evidence has been found too doubtful or irrelevant. On the contrary, the weight of scientific evidence is generally against the notion that exposure renders one liable to contract coryza or pneumonia, say. The general experience of polar explorers, for instance, has been that the highest and wettest kind of exposure brought none of the illnesses which most people would expect.
To return to the temperate zone, the air really is heavily laden with moisture these days and there is peril in it for us all. One is likely to catch almost anything from it. There are 20 or more diseases which are usually lowered through exposure to the moisture in the air. I have listed them here now and again as respiratory infections, such as coryza, influenza, pneumonia, diphtheria and, to name a few examples.
The moisture I refer to is in the form of a spray of invisible fine droplets of the secretions of excretions of the mucous membrane of the respiratory passage, not out from the nose or mouth of a talking person to a distance of four feet—just far enough to get you in an intimate conversation with the person, in so unobtrusive a manner as to cough or sneeze without covering his nose and mouth with handkerchief, mask or hand, then the spray will reach a target 10 feet away, far enough to get the innocent bystander or the unsuspecting passerby.
Suspended in the minute droplets of the moisture are microscopic samples of whatever respiratory infection the author and maker of the spray happens to be coming down with. It is before you catch the infection, which he is perhaps still trying to "fight it off" in the incipient or insipient stage of the illness, that the respiratory infections are most common. The moisture in the air is an indisposition masquerades as "an ordinary cold," the stage when a child is permitted, nay, bulldozed into remaining in school, peeping other children with measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria or whatever the infection may be, the stage when the average human being persists in remaining at work, distributing his infection to all who come within his spray range.

It is to prevent the passing of this spray, either way, that the gauze or the mask covers the nose and the mouth and has not less than 10 layers of fine cheesecloth or gauze made with 30 threads to the inch, it will effectively stop the spread of respiratory infection.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Iodine in Drinking Water.
I notice you are an advocate of the use of iodine in drinking water in this district. Please furnish me the formula to be used, either in drinking water or otherwise, for the purpose of preventing scurvy and other effects of an iodine shortage in the water or diet of adults and children. (D. D. L., Ansonia.)
Answer.—One of two drops of common tincture of iodine in not less than a pint of water, once a week, the year or if there is already a slight enlargement of the thyroid gland (goiter) a child over two years of age may take one drop of the tincture of iodine in not less than a pint of water every day for six weeks now and again in the spring. Tincture of iodine is the common household remedy used as a first aid disinfectant for wounds; it was formerly spelled Iodine. Certain cities are now putting minute quantities of iodine in the municipal water supply for a few weeks each year, to insure a sufficient iodine ration to all the people. Rochester, N. Y., has adopted this excellent plan. I believe it will help to keep Rochester free from scurvy.

Fat Soluble Vitamin.
Please mention which food items furnish sufficient fat soluble vitamins to prevent or relieve sinus infection. (B. W. M.)
Answer.—The yolks of two eggs, a pint of certified pure milk, a dish of thing you can get in the way of pure raw milk, half a head of lettuce, one eighth of a pound of butter, a dish of cold slaw and maybe a few bits of raw potatoes make excellent sources of vitamin A, but you may have a helping of liver and bacon on the house if I know whether these foods will prevent or relieve sinus infection. I merely told here of some experimental observations which seemed to indicate that the diet would help to prevent or relieve sinus infection.

Excellent Star.
Recently I witnessed a curious exhibition of magnetic strength. A man of ordinary build, dressed in a suit, a man lighter than himself, and then at his will three strong men were unable to lift him or move him from his place. How is this explained? (M. J. Place.)
Answer.—The posture of the man and the posture he makes these men are trying to lift him. These men would account for the trick. Even an obnoxious child can relax so that it takes about seven men to lift him. Lift him and carry him off to bed.

The Sun in benefic aspect dominates the best hours of this day, according to astrology. Neptune and Mars are adverse.
There is a promising sign for all who must seek loans or business aid. It is an auspicious way for seeking positions or asking for promotions.
Mars is in an aspect threatening to the peace of the world and again there is a sign read as involving the United States in an international problem.
The rule is not favorable to a serene state of mind and quarrels and misunderstandings may be easily precipitated in business.
Military men are subject to influences that are not satisfactory from the army point of view, but their value will be appreciated owing to an unlooked for unexpected influence that may cause much trouble and even great disasters, for Mars is on the lower meridian and Uranus culminates in that country.
The conjunction of Mars and Saturn on the 29th degree of Libra this month is read as presaging the death of a ruler or king of a country under Scorpio.
One conjunction culminating in the sixteenth degree of east longitude indicates a reign of lawlessness in that part of the world.
Volcanic eruptions and seismic disturbances are again threatened in the Pacific ocean in longitude 104 degrees west.
Russia is subject to unfavorable influences due to the conjunction of Mars and Neptune and socialist and bolshevistic agitations will cause new troubles.
Seismic troubles are once more threatened in the southeastern part of Europe.

Kellogg's Bran is prepared to do one thing—AND DO IT WELL!

Kellogg's Bran will permanently relieve constipation, mild or chronic. It is scientifically prepared for that purpose. It is ALL BRAN, therefore it has the necessary bulk to assure results. Foods with a small bran content cannot afford permanent relief.

When your physician or friends advise you to eat Kellogg's Bran, you follow-on for the purpose of eliminating a dangerous clogging-up and toxic condition of your system. You can't afford to take half-way measures. Think of the last time and the dangers of illness you are daily dodging!

What you must have is real bran—KELOGG'S BRAN, and if you will eat it regularly each day you will become a different person within a week or so. Kellogg's Bran, with its natural bulk, sweeps, cleanses and purifies. It not only gives relief, but it regulates the bowels. Every member of your family should eat it—every day—at least two tablespoonsful; in chronic cases as much with each meal.

Try Kellogg's Bran mixed with a hot cereal, or cook it with hot cereals, adding two tablespoonfuls of Bran for each person. Other popular ways are to sprinkle Kellogg's Bran on hot or cold cereals or to eat it as a cereal with hot milk. You can make delicious bakery products with Kellogg's Bran. Recipes on every package.

Kellogg's Bran is not only nationally sold in grocery stores, but can be had in individual packages in first-class hotels and clubs. Ask for it at your restaurant. Be certain to eat Kellogg's Bran daily for health's sake!

Kraft Cheese
 Is Wisconsin Cheese

Kraft Cheese is Wisconsin Cheese—"Krafted." Which means, it is properly ripened in our own cheese warehouses—because all cheese should be ripened before eaten. It is graded by our own laboratory tests—the only laboratory for strictly cheese research work in the world.

From these tests it is blended together in the right proportion to produce the exquisite Kraft flavor. It is sterilized to remove harmful bacteria and to give it better keeping qualities.

We believe we are making the finest cheese in the world—that's the intention.

Three varieties: American, Pimento and Swiss, sold by the slice, pound or 5-pound loaf.

$27,000 SPECIAL TAXES ARE LISTED

Entered in Tax Roll for Collection in January, City Clerk Reports.

A total of $26,968.52 in special assessments has been entered in the 1933 tax roll by City Clerk-Treasurer E. J. Sartell for collection in January along with the regular general property and income taxes. Of this amount, $17,992.27 is due from property owners who elected to pay their paying assessments over a period of years by having their property go to bonds.

For water mains, $3,563.30 has been placed in the tax roll; wood cutting, $1.50; cleaning walks, $2.95; street oiling, $1,053.02; Eastern avenue main outlet sewer, $2,584.21; surveys, $100.97; and water bills, $553.42. The total of all unpaid special assessments is $26,768.18, to which is added $202.34 interest, bringing the grand total up to $26,968.52.

Sewer-Water Payments in '34. As the bonds have not as yet been issued against the property where water and sewer mains were laid in 1932, the first payment under the bond payment plan is not included with the taxes this year, Mr. Sartell explained. These bonds will be issued as soon as the tax rolls are out of the way, he said.

The amounts against those who elected to pay cash for water mains and neglected to do so, continued Mr. Sartell, have been included on the tax roll for this year. This item is $2,563.30, as noted in the special assessments.

Bonds Issued Automatically. "No sewer certificates were added to the tax roll this year, but the people still have a reasonable time in which to pay for the sewer mains. If any of the people have not elected to pay cash and do not wish any bonds against their property, it is my advice that they get in touch with this office immediately."

"Bonds are automatically issued against the property where the owners did not elect to pay cash for the laying of sewer or water mains. The people affected by the Eastern avenue main outlet sewer assessments did not have the privilege of paying over a period of years and those who did not pay have had a delinquent amount, plus six percent interest from Nov. 1 to March 22, added to this year's tax roll. This amount is $3,563.30."

$75,000 Is Fire Loss in Garage

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) Marshfield — Fire of unknown origin early today gutted the two-story brick garage of Tollette Brothers company here, and destroyed, it is estimated, 40 or 50 automobiles parked in the garage. The loss is estimated at $75,000.

AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL, PLEA OF HOOVER

Washington — Legislation for the revision of the navigation laws, for control of traffic in the air, and for stabilization of radio services were among the recommendations made by Secretary Hoover today in the annual report of the Commerce department.

The rapid growth of aircraft and radio transmission alike, he said, had created a need for administrative development, while the navigation laws, long under scrutiny, required adjustment to the increased commercial expansion.

Within the department itself, Mr. Hoover recommended that Congress follow the general reorganization plan prepared under the Harding administration, and merge the administrative groupings to deal respectively with industry, trade, and navigation. He likewise urged congressional affirmation for the acts by which President Harding created Alaskan fisheries reserves, and suggested relief from federal taxation for Americans resident abroad and engaged in furthering American commerce.

AUTODRIVER IS KILLED IN NIGHT CRASH

Appleton — Herman J. Thoreson, 25, was killed and four other young men were slightly injured when Thoreson's car hit a street car here Saturday night. A truck following closely behind the Thoreson car crashed into the truck. Other men in the party were Walter J. Driscoll, Frank G. Elge, Clarence E. Egan and W. H. Ahle. Thoreson was an incident of the Thoreson Lumber company. He leaves a widow and two small children.

LEAGUE PROPONENTS PROTEST TO COOLIDGE

New York — The League of Nations Non-Partisan association protested to President Coolidge against the statement in his address to Congress that "our country has definitely refused to adopt and ratify the covenant of the League of Nations" and that "the incident, so far as we are concerned, is closed."

DEATH AND INJURY IN HEAVY WINDS

Los Angeles — One man is dead and several persons are recovering from injuries today as the result of accidents attributed to high winds which yesterday swept Los Angeles and vicinity, uprooting trees, unroofing houses, wrecking stone fronts, and demolishing fences and signs. The loss is estimated at thousands of dollars. C. C. Plumlee, 23, was fatally injured when he fell from a scaffold.

BOY DROWNS AFTER CLINGING TO ICE ALMOST AN HOUR

Barron — After clinging to the ice almost an hour, Raymond Schraubel, 12, of Barron, Wis., was drowned in a lake north of the city Saturday. His cries attracted the attention of Mrs. Tony Hendrick, who attempted to reach him with a plank. Failing, she started for help. As the boy saw her leave he released his hold and sank.

Los Angeles — Three hundred federal prohibition agents, many of them borrowed from other states, will encamp in and around road houses and cafes here on New Year's eve, in order to break up the festivities if guests fail to leave their flasks at home, officials announced Monday.

CUT EXTRA WORK ON WATER BILLS

Notices in Future Will Be Mailed to Addresses Only,
Not Persons.

To eliminate a large amount of work and trouble in the keeping of city water accounts, a plan has been advanced by the city manager whereby notices will be omitted in sending out bills in the future. The bills will be addressed merely to "Owner or Occupant, Blank street," instead of giving the person's name. The change will be noticed by some 4,000 consumers.

By adoption of such a system a large amount of work in changing plates for the addressograph can be done away with and results are expected to be equally as satisfactory. If not more so, as under the old plan. In the past whenever a tenant moved from one house to another it was necessary to destroy several addressograph plates and make new ones. One notice had to be made for such changes to the amount of 11 pages have been recorded.

It is explained that the owner is finally responsible for the payment of water bills, but most of them require the tenants to pay. If the tenant does not pay then it is up to the property owner to settle. The new system will be effective with the mailing out of quarterly bills for payment the first 15 days of January. The only ones receiving bills under the old plan will be those in the downtown district, and the change will be made in these for the second quarter of 1924. No records will be kept of tenants.

DIVIDE VAULT FOR USE OF 2 COURTS

Workmen are erecting an iron railing in the vault at the court house, which will separate the portion used by the county court and that of the clerk of the circuit court. The two vaults were recently joined by tearing down the wall between them, to provide more room for the county court records.

Select Cast for Minstrel Show

Besides members of the employed boys' group of the Y. M. C. A., several persons interested in boys' work, and officials of the association will take part in the Carolina minstrel show to be given under the auspices of the physical department on Dec. 13. Director A. B. Bergman is in charge. Those who will take part are: Edmen, Otto Ambrose, Bernard Daly, Delbert Truesdell, J. C. Koller, George Graham, Leo Anderson; Interlocutor, A. B. Bergman. Others to take part are: Robert Howard, Frederick Luebke, Stanley Persson, Robert Persson, H. Ambrose, Dick Hooser, Conrad Reeder, John Barrage and Robert Bergman.

A specialty act will be presented by George Strampe, baritone, Charles Mann, tenor, and Mrs. Fred Palminter, mezzo-soprano, accompanied by Fred Palminter with banjo and harp guitar. Delbert Truesdell and Bernard Daly will present a comedy negro tumbling act.

The first setting of the play will depict a southern cotton plantation, with a group of negroes engaged in picking cotton. While they are singing, Col. Matheson and Major Kears appear. The latter is the owner of a musical show and is visiting his friend, he becomes so enthralled with the negroes' ability as musicians that he hires them all. The second scene shows them as a regular minstrel company. One of the features of the show is the actions of Spire Ribs and Gravy, recent arrivals from the Ho-kelation Islands, who apply for jobs with the show and are finally accepted.

FORMER RESIDENT WILL VISIT SWEDEN

Henry Swanson, who years ago was a resident of Jansville, has returned here after 15 years spent in Oregon. He has applied for a passport and will visit his former home in Sweden. Mr. Swanson at one time lived in Rockford, Ill.

"Y" Conference

Well Attended

Twice as many delegates attended the second county Y. M. C. A. conference held at Oxfordville Sunday as attended that held there on Nov. 1. Forty-five were present.

The Rev. C. L. Atkins, Edgerton, was the speaker, and stressed the idea that the ideals of the association are the most important part of its program and that the spiritual element in the work is of great importance. He stated that no man could spend his time more profitably than by meeting with a boys' group as their leader.

Others who spoke were Henry Anderson, Aven group leader, on "Building a Program," and Roy Cole, leader of the Newark Older Boys' group, on "Purpose of Group Work." A report of the Older Boys' conference was given by Orin Loftus.

The Rev. J. M. Glimmerstad presided, and Prof. Sigurd Sigurdson led the songs. Closing remarks were by Secretary J. K. Arnot.

Another meeting for Oxfordville is being planned to take place about the middle of January. On next Sunday the second of the southeastern county district conferences will be held at Clinton.

AUTOMOBILE TAGS BEING SENT OUT

Madison—Notices of the 1924 automobile license tags are now being sent out to county and city officials. It was announced to day at the secretary of state's office. It is expected that actual shipment of tags to county officials will get under way the latter part of this month.

The secretary of state's department has devised a novel way to urge motor vehicle owners to register their cars early next year. Large posters, giving facts of registration and urging motorists to register early are now being prepared and will be distributed over the state the first of the year. These will be displayed in public places.

Approximately 150,000 1924 tags are now being completed at the state penitentiary. The first carload shipment was received a month ago.

A majority of motor vehicles required to be re-registered under the new motor vehicle license act have been recorded by the state department.
